KOOKAI

Kookai is a Parisian boutique that was brought to Australia in the 1990's, the company remains dedicated to creating collections infused with Parisian chic. Their designs continue to provide women with the opportunity to embrace their individuality and the power of expression through their wardrobe.

'The Power of Expression' was explored through a series of sketches of the female form. Those sketches were then warped and abstracted to create a space that communicates the client's brand of alluring confidence and luxury.
